G. O. P. LEADERS
IN CONFERENCE
OVER CAMPAIGN

Policies, Men and Convention
City Discussed in Parleys at Capital.

OTHERS ARE TO FOLLOW

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 13.—A comprehensive survey of the Republican outlook for 1924 has been made in the last few days in a series of conferences here, involving most of the titular leaders of the party.

Not only men and policies but such questions as the state of the party treasury and the choice of the 1924 convention city have been given active consideration.

No definite conclusions are announced but the not result has been to still further advance the season of pre-convention activities already ahead of the usual political calendar.

Thus far the conferences have brought here such figures as National Chairman John Adams, just home from a trip abroad; National Treasurer Fred Upham of Chicago, several members of the state committee and a number of senators who keep in close connection with all matters of party policy.

Within a few days two former national chairmen, Charles D. Hays and Will H. Hays are expected to confer with others interested in the party's welfare, in New York.

WELFARE COMMISSIONER TO HAVE PART CONTROL
STATE INSTITUTIONS

HARRISBURG, April 13.—An important change in the administration of State and county institutions, by which not only general supervision will be lodged in the Department of Welfare, but which will give the head of that department a voice in the selection of superintendents and wardens, is contemplated in the administrative code now before the General Assembly.

These institutions include all penal, reformatory, educational institutions, hospitals and charitable institutions maintained in whole or in part by the Commonwealth.

One section of the administrative code, provides that each board of trustees of each State institution within the Department of Welfare shall have general direction and control of the property and management of such institution and shall elect, subject to the approval of the secretary of welfare, a superintendent or warden of the institution, who shall, subject to the authority of the board, administer the institution in all its branches.

In the phrase, "subject to the approval of the superintendent," is found the chief change in the administrative procedure of such institutions. At present there is no obligation on the part of boards of trustees to consult anyone here in connection with the appointment of superintendents or wardens, except in local institutions, and while it has been customary to discuss such appointments with officials who happened to be party leaders, there is no law on the subject.

The result has been in many cases that persons have been continued in office in some institutions as a species of political protection and a sort of factional politics in the management of such institutions. The purpose of the change proposed in the administrative code is to end such practices by giving the commissioner of welfare power to reject candidates who appeared unsuitable for any valid reason.

Forest Fire Prevention
Campaign Actively Carried On in Mountain Townships

Several hundred persons gathered at the motion picture theatre at Mottcroft Thursday evening for the presentation of a motion picture sent out by the Forestry Department at Harrisburg in the interest of combating fires and forest conservation. The picture was presented along with a lecture, by William S. Fisher of Harrisburg, who is in charge of a motor car on which the picture machine is being taken from place to place.

Methods of fighting forest fires and the dangers to timber lands arising from carelessness in the woods are graphically shown.

The Indian Creek Valley Railroad Company ran a special train for the use of the fire crews at Mill Run, 20 of whom attended, along with members of the Indian Creek Valley company's fire crew.

Frank Bigam, of Mill Run, is fire warden and fire boss in the Forbes District and has been very active in promoting the campaign against fires.

There are 17 men in each of the two companies at Mill Run.

Frank Bigam, the district warden, is warden of crew No. 1 and Chelsea Bigam is captain. Squirt Marletta is warden of No. 2, with Wilbur Bainger as captain. Peter Demorla is captain of the railroad crew.

Barber License
Bill Is Killed

HARRISBURG, April 13.—The bill providing a system for the examination and licensing of barbers was killed in the House last night despite the enthusiastic support given the measure by Representative Ogilvie of Somerset.

In his address Mr. Ogilvie expressed the view that supervision of the man in whom he places his "life, honor and welfare" must surely be a good thing. He admitted he had been indicted in barber shop when in ordering a simple shave and nothing else, he had been asked if he wanted lather. The man who wields the razor, he said, is a dangerous man.

EINSTEIN THEORY
OVER CENTURY OLD;
CANNOT BE PROVEN

By Associated Press.

VALLISCO, Cal., April 13.—A statement saying that he "vigorously controverted" the announcement made by Dr. W. W. Campbell, director of Lick Observatory, that development of the photographic taken during the last total eclipse of the sun confirmed the Einstein theory of relativity, was made public here by Captain T. J. J. See, government astronomer at Mare Island Navy Yard.

After refuting the Campbell statement, Professor See said:

"The celebrated English physicist, Henry Cavendish (1731-1810) calculated the mass of Newton's theory that the corpuscles of light are bent toward the sun in passing near it, and in 1801 Dr. J. von Gollner, a German physicist of eminence in his day, actually derived the formula recently used by Einstein. This was 122 years ago. Einstein never once mentions Cavendish in his writings. This is bad enough, but the worst is yet to come."

"It has been shown by Prof. Dr. E. Gehrcke, director of the Imperial Physical and Technical Institute of Berlin (a position first filled by Helmholtz) and by Prof. J. Leonard, of Heidelberg, winner of the Nobel prize in physics, that Einstein omitted a certain factor in his formula of 1901, which error Einstein also corrected when he appropriated the Einstein-Soldner formula, in the Einstein paper of 1911. In a subsequent paper to the Berlin Academy of Sciences, 1915, Einstein refuted this error as best he could, yet could not prevent its discovery and exposure by Prof. Leonard and Heidelberg Gehrcke of Berlin and Weston of Stockholm. Prof. Weston charges Einstein with downright plagiarism, saying:

"From these facts the conclusion seems inevitable that Einstein cannot be regarded as a scientist of real note. He is not a honest investigator. This Weston pointed to the discovery of the Nobel Foundation against the reward of Einstein."

"In considering the Newton-Von Soldner refutation of sunlight from the eclipse in Australia, the value of the eclipse observations is recognized as the refutation of the Newton-Soldner, not of Einstein."

"It not remains to be pointed out that the Einstein theory of relativity is not confirmed and cannot be confirmed. A fundamental postulate of Einsteinian is that the ether does not exist and gravity is not a force but a property of space. These crazy theories require mention, beyond the remark that such discussion is a disgrace to our age. Is it any wonder that the Paris Academy of Sciences, October 24, 1921, came out with conspicuous proclamations by Prof. Picard and Poincare against Einsteinianism in favor of Newtonian mechanics?"

"Everybody from Huyghens, Newton, Herschel, Maxwell, Helmholtz, Tisserand, Lord Kelvin, Poincare, etc., to our own Michelson knows very well that ether exists and acts with forces equivalent to the breaking strength of millions of immense cables of the strongest steel, for holding planets in their orbits."

"The man expelled were for the most part employees of the customs service and the railroads."

Proposal to Abandon Sunday School for Week-Day Classes
On Religion Has Supporters

By Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., April 13.—Proposals to abandon Sunday schools for children and substitute instead a week day school that staggered the delegates at the fourth educational conference of the Episcopal Church today were in the hands of a committee whose report Monday is awaited with interest in spreading. Dr. William Gardner, secretary of the national council, who proposed the change, was upheld by Rev. Ernest Shaylor, bishop of Nebraska, who added in the future by declaring the church ready for radical innovations. He likened the Sunday school work to attempts to make a living tree out of a dead stump.

All churches are seeing the vital need for weekly religious instruction of children and the more to have them receive it during regular school hours.

Dr. Gardner, secretary of the week day religious instruction department, said in continuing the discussion today.

KALAMAZOO PRIEST SHOT AND KILLED
BY HIS ASSISTANT

By Associated Press.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., April 13.—Prosecuting Attorney Steven Wattles announced today he was preparing to issue a warrant charging the Rev. Father Charles Dillon with murder in connection with the slaying last night of Father Henry O'Neill, pastor of St. Augustine's Catholic Church here.

"Under Father Dillon's own sworn statement I can do nothing but charge him with murder," the prosecutor said.

Police Chief Benjamin Taler, announced this morning that Father Dillon, at police headquarters, reiterated the confession made last night that he had shot Father O'Neill. He told the authorities he shot Father O'Neill because the latter "treated me like a child."

A post mortem examination of the body disclosed six bullet wounds. In the statement Father Dillon is said to have declared he fired only four times.

"I knelt before God and prayed that something would happen to that man," Father Dillon was quoted as saying in a statement to Prosecutor Steven S. Wattles. He was being questioned in the presence of a stenographer. The statement at times was disconnected and contained many repetitions.

Impossible Now to Make Germany See Their Viewpoint. It Is Admitted.

NEW MEASURES TALKED

By Associated Press.

PARIS, April 13.—The premiers of France and Belgium, with their principal advisers, met here today for an important conference on the reparations question. One of the main objects is to devise measures to make the Ruhr occupation more productive. It is intended that as long as the Ruhr is occupied, Germany to accept the French-Belgian viewpoint. There is touch with the German viewpoint that Germany will not agree to negotiate as long as the Allies occupy the Ruhr. They contended that the Allies are "killing the goose that laid the golden egg," since the Ruhr is now unproductive.

DECISION MINIMUM WAGE LAW MAY HAVE EFFECT EDMONDS ACT

HARRISBURG, April 13.—Members of the Legislature are discussing with a great deal of interest the decision of the United States Supreme Court that minimum wage laws are in conflict with the Constitution. A hearing is scheduled on such a bill for this State, but there were fears the matter might go further.

While some of the discussion was in connection with a minimum wage bill for women that was presented in the House some time ago by Senator George MacKinney, of Butler, there was considerable conjecture as to what effect, if any, the decision of the Supreme Court would have upon the Edmonds Act providing for State subsidies to school districts and fixing the salaries of teachers. In the course of a complete report of the decision, talk here did not go beyond the bounds of conjecture.

Report received here are to the effect that the court held that the minimum wage law, by interfering with contracts between the employers and employees, violated the 14th Amendment to the Constitution. Opinions based on that brief report as affecting the Edmonds Act differ, some holding that his measure was not a minimum wage act at all but a salary fixing measure, others expressing the opinion that he court would not hold the decision is affecting teachers, and a few seeing in the Edmonds Act a minimum wage measure that would come under any unfriendly decision.

STOMACH TROUBLE ENTIRELY GONE

Uniontown blacksmith proud to tell about big change in his feelings.

Says "Dreco" is a wonder.

"The widespread popularity now enjoyed by Dreco has come strictly through merit. Thousands of people today owe their present good health to this great, herbal remedy. It possesses great powers to banish rheumatism, relieve stomach disorders, overcome constipation, rouse a sluggish liver and that is why they speak so highly of it after giving it a fair trial."

"Since taking Dreco I feel better and enjoy myself more than in many a day and I had tried so many medicines before that I hesitated at first to spend my money on Dreco, but I'm glad now that I did," declared Mr. Cleve Elder the popular blacksmith of Orient, near Uniontown, Pa.

"My stomach was in such bad shape that I'd vomit yellow bile after meals and could hardly keep anything on my stomach. My liver was sluggish and my kidneys weak which caused pains in my back and rheumatism in my joints."

"I heard so many people speak well of Dreco that I got three bottles and (the answer) was very well spent. My stomach is so much better that I can eat anything I crave and never vomit it up as before. My bowels act regularly. Liver has been cleaned off so I am no longer dizzy and my kidneys strengthened. I feel 100% better today and give all the credit to Dreco."

The Connellsville Drug Company are introducing DRECO to the people of Connellsville. Call on them. Let them tell you of the thousands of Pennsylvania men and women who have DRECO all the credit for their present good health.—Advertisement.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Doing for Others.

Early in the year I provide a strong, good-sized, pasteboard box in which the children have all the attractive pictures they clip from papers and magazines through the year. In November they begin making scrapbooks, adding strong paper for the leaves and creases for the covers. The scrapbooks are sent to the children's ward of a hospital. All through the year my children are on the lookout for pictures for their books.

Representatives of Pittsburg Commerce Body Here on May 11

D. W. Lewis, advance agent of the trade extension tour of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce, was in the city last evening completing arrangements for the visit of 125 members of the party to Connelville on Friday, May 11.

The present tour, which includes towns in western Pennsylvania and southern New York, will comprise five days, Connelville and Scottsdale being the last on the itinerary. A special train carrying the members of the party, a broadcasting radio outfit and film photographers, will arrive in Connelville at 3:00 P. M. from Somerset. The stop here will be but an hour and a half. Hornell, N. Y., where the party will remain over night, and Elmira, N. Y., where the stop will be three hours, are the only towns on the route where the stay of the party will be longer than in Connelville.

The object of the tour is to cultivate an acquaintanceship between the business people of the towns visited and the representatives of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce. The tour will in no sense be a sales excursion.

The local Chamber of Commerce and other business men's organization will make arrangements for extending a cordial welcome to the visitors. No formal entertainment of any kind is desired, the members of the party preferring to devote all their time while in the city to becoming better acquainted with our business people.

30,000 YOUTHS SLEEP IN STREET

in Moscow Students Literally
Fight for Chance to Learn.

CHANGE PLACE EVERY NIGHT

American college students, who frequently complain that their allowances are too small, would learn what roughing it in search of an education actually means were they to come to Moscow.

Investigators for the American relief administration have come across tragic comedy or comic tragedy in every nook and corner of the bare, cold dormitories for Russian youths at the big universities in Moscow and in the provinces.

Last September, when the college term opened, there were approximately 50,000 students registered in the higher institutions of Moscow. Approximately 10,000 of these were capable of caring for themselves; another 10,000 were to be taken care of by the government, but many of the other 30,000 literally had to sleep in the streets because no quarters could be found for them in the overcrowded city.

Lodges in Doorways.

One member of the investigating committee found the task of relieving needy students almost hopeless because of the indefinite address given by the applicants. Peter Popov, who was given a pair of shoes and was to receive a food package later, informed the committee that he was rather a difficult person to find, because he slept in a different doorway every night. Two young men from the electrical college were perfectly willing to be called upon, they said, but doubted that they could be found in the crowd at the railway station where they slept.

So much time and energy is spent trying to obtain food and shelter that many of the students find study impossible. They are always on the lookout for odd jobs that will give them a bed, a meal or a few million rubles.

Three girls in one of the universities saw four hours a day for a corner to sleep in. After a meal at the student kitchen at 5 p. m. they attend their first class. Russian universities always ran to night work, for even in the old days the terms "student" and "poor" were synonymous.

Conditions in the institutions of Moscow today are said to be laudably worse than those endured by the poorer students before the revolution. Sleeping 40 in a room, some with and some without beds, many of these earnest young seekers after the truth about science, philosophy or medicine play balalaikas and sing songs even when they are hungry.

From Classes to Bed.

Two cheery lads owning one suit of clothes between them were lucky enough to find a small room by themselves. They arranged their classes so that one could stay in bed and study while the other wore the suit to the lecture. Another youngster had three useful possessions, a blanket, a sack of potatoes and a geometry. Wrapped in one, he used another for a pillow, while he read the third.

Two girls, taking a mathematical course, had repeatedly searched their room, but one evening they went out for a moment to buy some food. When they returned they found their belongings in the corridor and a row lock on the door. Two young men had moved in.

The urge for education is stronger throughout Russia these days particularly among sons and daughters of the working classes, than it has ever been before, and registration in the higher schools in some cases has increased more than 20 per cent.

In the old days at the Russian universities there were no dormitories; the student's rented rooms and paid for their own board. Now the government is attempting to feed and house students, and pays them a monthly subsidy, amounting approximately to $2 in American money. In pre-revolution days $10 a month would keep a Russian student in ragged but happy comfort.

GRAFTERS SHOT IN RUSSIA

Soviet Opens Campaign to Weed Out
Bribery and Corruption.

Reactionary ruses are beginning to crack in the Soviet government's campaign to weed out bribery and corruption from government institutions. At one trial in Moscow three members of the railway administration department were found guilty of having turned government money to their own use, and were ordered to be shot. One of them had succeeded in smuggling the profits to England, and had a heavy deposit in London. This the Soviet government hopes to recover.

GREATER HARMONY IN OUR INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS SOUGHT

CONFERENCE ON APRIL 27

A movement, nationwide in its ramifications, to increase harmony in industrial relations, will be launched in New York City on Friday, April 27, when the leading representatives of the coal and other mining industries of the United States will meet in conference under the auspices of the Division of Industrial Cooperation of the American Mining Congress. At that conference the future plans of this branch of the Mining Congress in carrying out the program for bringing about greater harmony in industrial relations will be discussed and mapped out.

Invitations to attend the conference have already been sent out by the American Mining Congress over the signature of the president of that organization, Sidney J. Jennings, vice-president of the United States Smelting & Refining Company, and indications point to a large and representative attendance of prominent coal operators and mining men generally.

Acceptances of the invitation to attend the meetings have been received from more than 50 men controlling the largest mining operations in the country.

At this conference plans will be laid for the successful direction of the first effort made by a major industry in the United States on a large scale to reduce friction between employers and employees. Already the Division of Industrial Cooperation has spread the network of its organization throughout the country. State committees for coal and metal operations have been appointed in every mining district and large numbers of meetings of these bodies are expected to attend the meeting for the purpose of securing information to be applied in their more intimate contact with details of the problem.

Officials of the division which was organized under the terms of a resolution adopted by the annual convention of the American Mining Congress held in Cleveland, Ohio, last October, are emphasizing the fact that the movement is not plagued with impractical idealism.

Proceeding upon the theory that lack of understanding between employer and employee results in an unnecessary burden of costs being added upon industry, they have decided first to make a complete study of the causes and extent of this misunderstanding. Then they will proceed to secure on a magnified scale the results of industrial cooperation already achieved by several of the largest corporations in the country to whom labor troubles and maneuvers are practically unknown and whose costs thus are reduced so as to produce an actual economic saving to the country.

Car Loadings Near Million Week Mark

Record-breaking loadings for this time of year of revenue freight continue, according to the American Railway Association. The loading for the week ended March 21 totaled 917,036 cars. This was an increase of 79,787 cars over the corresponding week last year, and an increase of 230,159 cars over the corresponding week in 1923.

The total for the week also was an increase of 12,750 cars over the preceding week and, with one exception, was the largest for any week so far this year.

Loading of merchandise and miscellaneous freight, which includes manufactured products, totaled 559,319 cars, 19,743 above the week before. This was an increase of 115,523 cars above the same week last year, and an increase of 56,718 cars above the same week two years ago.

Coal loading amounted to 186,082 cars, an increase of 1,532 cars above the week before. While this was a decrease of 18,187 cars compared with the same week last year when coal shipments were heavy due to the expected strike of miners, it was an increase of 53,988 cars above the corresponding week in 1923. Coal loading totaled 14,839 cars, 483 cars less than the preceding week. Compared with the same week last year, this was an increase of 9,147 cars and for the same week in 1921, an increase of 9,581 cars.

Merchant Operators Fully Prepared for Opening of Second Quarter of Year

For Which They Have Been Getting Ready During Past Six Weeks.

NOW RUNNING 80 PER CENT

Of their Ovens as Compared With 28 Per Cent Year Ago; Not as Close Production Capacity as Had Been Supposed; Car Supply Nears 100%.

From The Weekly Courier.

Notwithstanding the opening week of the second quarter of the year, during which new coke contracts became active, was also post-Kauter week, the plants of the region gave very concrete proof of their preparedness to meet both contract and spot requirements. This they were able to do through having the best car supply of the year to date, by firing up more ovens and the fact that the aftermath of the Easter celebration interfered with operation only slightly as compared with former years.

The merchant operators have been getting ready for the beginning of the second quarter for six weeks past while at the same time taking care of the increasing spot demand and handling a full sized tonnage for export. They are therefore in a position to make prompt and full shipments as coke is requisitioned on contracts and to supply current demands from consumers who buy from month as they have need.

The steady development which has been in progress since January 1 has created a condition which is in no wise contrast with the same period a year ago. At that time the sympathy strike had been on for a week and was becoming more effective from day to day. Comparing last week with the corresponding week of April, 1922, there were twice as many ovens in blast and running practically full time and production was 306,210 tons, or 221 per cent greater. A year ago the merchant operators were running but 28 per cent of their ovens, the furnace operators but 41 per cent, the average of the region being 33 per cent. Last week the merchants had 80 per cent and the furnace plants 65 per cent in blast, the average being 71 per cent.

A few weeks ago it began to appear that the merchant operators were approaching the maximum of their producing capacity with their present of active equipment. It develops, however, that they yet have some distance to go. That they have progressed so far in this direction is in part accounted for by the fact that plants which have been idle for two or three years, and in a sense regarded as in the down-and-out class, have been rejuvenated and are again in active production. Just last week the Lowmohr plant of the Central Connellville Coke Company, at which the ovens have been cold for more than two years, was fired up in part on coal brought from Herbert, another operation of this company. This week the Grace plant of the Connellville Schenck Coke Company, which was generally presumed to have served its usefulness as a coke-producer before it was sold by the builder, W. J. Rainey, is having part of its ovens put in shape to make coke from coal not entirely exhausted by the 30 odd years operation by the first owner. These instances illustrate how the merchants are being able to augment production beyond what had been supposed to have been their ability to do, except in the case of some of the more modern operations which have not been running in full.

For the first time almost beyond the memory of present plant managers to recall last week witnessed the nearest approach to a full car supply. The Monongahela railway did, in fact, score 100 per cent coke car distribution and the Pennsylvania came a close second with 97 per cent. Even the Baltimore & Ohio, which has been lagging far behind in the distribution game, dug up sufficient cars to give the oven plants on its line a full six day run. Just where cars are coming from railroad men are not able to explain but they are rolling into the region day after day, and greatly to the satisfaction of the coke producers. The coal operators are taking heart, too, the supply of cars for coal loading having jumped from less than one per cent to 35 and 37 per cent last week and to larger proportions this week.

The estimated production of coke during the week ending Saturday April 7, was 306,210 tons, credited to the two districts in the following proportions: Connellville, 163,080, an increase of 3,180 tons; Lower Connellville, 143,130, an increase of 4,630 tons, or a total increase of 7,810 tons, compared with an increase of 7,140 tons during the preceding week. By interests the production was:

Furnace, 178,340, a gain of 4,360 tons; merchant, 128,870, a gain of 3,450 tons, as compared with gains of 5,400 and 740 tons respectively during the week ended March 31.

The gain of 386 in the number of active ovens comprised 71 at furnace and 315 at merchant plants. The former included 25 Frick ovens and 46 at Orient of the American Coke Corporation. The merchant increases were as follows:

Coal Origin Found In Study of Lava

Professor Barton Seammell, president of the Radium Institute at Dover, England, asserts that he has discovered the origin of coal. He has been engaged in research work with lava from Mount Vesuvius, which is being used as a fertilizer, and says this led to the discovery that the layers of "bit"—the mysterious substance found on the top and bottom of all coal seams—are identical in analysis with lava.

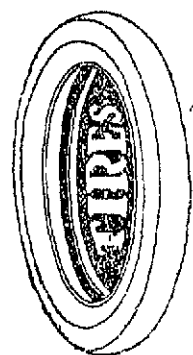

The bit contains lime, iron, magnesium, potash and other elements required by plant life and, when made radioactive with solutions of radio-phosphate of potash, it absorbs nitrogen from the air and forms a perfect fertilizer.

The origin of coal is thus explained by Professor Seammell. It is a cellulose of trees and vegetable matter, carbonized by hot lava thus forming coal, and sunk into the depths of the earth by disturbance of the earth's crust at a remote period.

He claims that conversion of the bit, now a waste product, into fertilizer will enrich the mining and agricultural industries.

ADVANCE IN STEEL PRICES SEEMS TO HAVE COME TO END

A Steady Market Is Now in Prospect.
Fig Iron Production Raising Head of Steel Output.

NEW YORK, April 11.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:
The iron and steel industry is making a general advance of about 10 per cent effective April 16. The common labor rate is increased from 88 cents to 98 cents an hour. In 1928 it was about 75 cents and February 1, 1915, occurred the last of the pre-war advances, to 15 cents.

With a lull in the last three months of the old year steel prices have been advancing since early March, 1929. The advance seems now to be practically ended, and a steady market, something with which there has been no recent acquaintance, is now in prospect. There are premiums for prompt shipment, and these may increase or decrease in the next couple months. Basic prices, for late delivery are unlikely to show much change for months.

By the ratio which obtained last year, pig iron production is running well ahead of steel production. It is at record rate. Ingot production may be somewhat short of the production peak of September, 1918, but it shows sustained and steady operation not matched in the past.

Production, distribution and consumption are proceeding in orderly manner. Propagandists speak of various shortages but the state of business should really be considered eminently satisfactory and indeed better than men had the courage to expect.

Coke has turned rather easy. There is an adequate supply and consumers are showing no concern. Pig iron markets in the various districts are quiet, with prices good, producers well sold up and consumers comfortably covered. There is no indication of price movement in either direction in the near future. Smelted steel is very hard to buy, as consumers who want extra steel find that producers themselves want extra steel.

West Penn Lineman Killed by Falling Near Point Marion

Knocked 5 feet to the ground when he came in contact with a live wire, Gail Lytle, of New Kensington, employed as a West Penn Lineman, was instantly killed at Point Marion Thursday by the fall which broke his neck.

Lytle was repairing a short circuit in the line running into the brick yard just across the river when the accident occurred. The dead man is said to have failed to turn off the current before repairing the "short," and 300 volts passed through him, knocking him from the pole on which he was working.

Lytle is survived by his wife and one child, residing in New Kensington.

Missing Children Found in Closet, All Fast Asleep

By Associated Press

WARREN, Ohio, April 11.—After being imprisoned in a downtown building for 18 hours, Theresa Sandford, three years old; John Williams, three, and his sister, Margaret, five, were safe at home today recovering from the ill effects from their confinement without food and water. The children disappeared Tuesday. They were last seen near a 20-foot embankment overlooking the Mahoning River and in the belief that they had fallen into the stream police and firemen probed the bottom with long poles Wednesday and Thursday.

The children selected a closet near the back of the house for their hiding place. They were trapped when the door, with a small spring lock, swung shut. All were asleep when found.

Strawberry Crop Greatest on Record, Bureau Predicts

CHICAGO, April 11.—Indications that the Nation's strawberry crop, made this year would be the largest on record were reported today by the United States bureau of agricultural economics.

Statistics on early shipments and acreage in the berry producing fields showed that this year's crop in all probability, would exceed last year's record output of 78,710 carloads. Not including numerous express shipments and vast quantities consumed locally or manufactured into preserves and jellies.

Sales of Explosives 16 Per Cent Greater

The quantity of explosives sold in the United States during the calendar year 1922 was greater by more than 16 per cent than the amount sold in 1921, according to the Department of the Interior. Reports received by the Bureau of Mines show that the total sales amounted to 131,729,767 pounds as compared with 113,566,563 pounds the year before. Of the total amount sold 375,866,225 pounds was black blasting powder, 209,175,881 pounds high explosives other than permissible explosives, and 43,428,763 pounds permissible explosives. Permissible explosives are those that, because of having passed certain tests prescribed by the Bureau of Mines, are considered reasonably safe for use in gaseous and dusty coal mines.

The coal-mining industry is always the largest consumer of black powder and permissible explosives, the consumption usually comprising about 35 per cent of the entire amount manufactured. In 1922 the coal mines used 6,190,475 kegs or 154,761,950 pounds of black powder, as compared with 5,613,335 kegs or 140,335,875 pounds in 1921. In 1922 the coal mines used 25,437,700 pounds of high explosives other than permissibles as against 24,231,512 pounds used in 1921. The coal-mining industry in 1922 used 43,428,763 pounds of permissible explosives compared with 38,056,660 pounds of permissibles used in 1921. Pennsylvania, as usual, was by far the leading state in the consumption of explosives, having used 11,669,338 pounds of permissible explosives, 11,569,040 pounds of high explosives other than permissible, and 1,169,690 kegs of black blasting powder. West Virginia was second in the use of permissible explosives, with a consumption of 5,562,719 pounds; Alabama was third, with 2,825,963; and Illinois was fourth, with 2,758,300 pounds.

At the Theatres

THE PARAMOUNT.
 "THE BORDER RAIDERS," the leading attraction today and tomorrow at this theatre, is an exciting tale of the Rio Grande country. Young and old, male and female, everyone likes and is always ready to see a good thrilling Western picture if they can be sure that it is a good one. That's just what they'll see in "The Border Raiders" but they won't know it unless you tell them about it through the columns of the newspapers and in whatever other way you use to give publicity and advertising to your shows. This is one of the popular series of Western features that The Arnon Film Corporation has prepared for the exhibitor and all of them are of the sort that will make money for the theatre owner and greatly please the public. "The Border Raiders" is literally packed full of thrills and genuine excitement. There is no let up from the opening of the first reel until the finale fades out, and it's tense drama, bristling with hair raising and breath taking episodes, all the way through.

THE SOISSON.

"OMAR, THE TENTMAKER"—A First National picture, with Guy Bates Post in the leading role, is the feature picture today and tomorrow at this theatre.

For years Guy Bates Post has been one of the most popular actors in the United States. He has appeared in practically every section of the country during his tours, and has made the plays he appeared in household words. Chief among these were "The Masquerader" and "Omar the Tentmaker."

A year ago Post was induced to act for the screen. "The Masquerader" being his first film vehicle. From the start it met with sensational success, setting high records all over the country.

"Omar, the Tentmaker" is one of the most gorgeously colorful and enthralling dramas that has ever been shown on the silver screen. Written by Mr. Tuily, who spent a number of years in the task, it is based on the adventurous romance of Omar Khayyam, the Persian philosopher, poet and scientist, whose fame is growing with the years.

The picture is noted for its scenic splendor and luxurious investiture, for its tense action and thrills, for its masterful acting and direction and for its gripping suspense. In a word, it is a cinematic masterpiece, and one that the patrons of the Soisson Theatre will enjoy from start to finish.

Katherine MacDonald will be seen Monday and Tuesday afternoons in "White Shoulders."

Mr. Reid has the active role of Warren Jarvis, a young American who shoots a man who has followed him from Kentucky to get him in a quarrel resulting from a revival of an ancient feud between the two families, and is then forced to flee New York to get away from the police. Seeking refuge in another room of the hotel where the shooting occurred, he tells his story to the fair occupant, who proves to be Marchesa Maria Theresa. She is a young Spanish heiress who has come to New York to find the plans of an ancient Spanish castle on her estate, which of late has been

NATIONALIZATION OF RAILROADS GOAL OF SOCIALIST PROGRAM

Which Is Being Fostered By Labor Organizations, Says Railway Review.

WORK THROUGH COLLEGES

Educational propaganda which is declared to be a part of an international movement to spread the doctrine of socialism in labor organizations of all countries is being carried on in the railroad labor organizations of the United States in a bureau of promoting nationalization of the railroads, according to the current issue of the Railway Review.

The furtherance of the socialist program of workers' education in the United States, declares the railroad magazine has an immediate practical purpose that is of greater importance than any possible altruistic value inherent in this kind of propaganda. Salaries of industries by the workers is advocated by leaders of the new educational movement.

The Journal of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, according to the Railway Review, has announced a plan for promoting study along socialist lines. An announcement quoted from the Locomotive Engineers Journal by the railroad paper states that the engineers' organization is now making a careful study of educational conditions in every college and university in America. The brotherhood journal offers its services in the selection of schools.

The text books and literature which are recommended by the brotherhood publication are mostly the work of socialist writers, according to the Railway Review. The editor of the brotherhood paper, it is also claimed, is a lecturer in a socialist college in New York.

The Railway Review declares seizure or nationalization of industries is the ultimate goal of many socialists who are connected with the workers' colleges that are recommended to members of railroad organizations.

COURT IN BALLROOM; SENTENCES OF DEATH READ PALM SUNDAY

The reading of the death sentences was begun on the stroke of midnight of Palm Sunday. The audience throughout was largely composed of Communists. When the old priest was asked what he had to say before sentence was passed, he spoke as firmly as the others.

One Aged Priest Falters.

At the beginning of the trial Archbishop Zepiack looked feeble and worn, as well he might, for he is near 70, and he was brought every day from the filthy Butyrka prison in a patrol wagon of the choka. But when he heard Krylenko—demand, the death penalty he seemed rejuvenated. His color rose, his eye brightened, his tall figure straightened, and in his long black cassock fastened at the waist by a broad red sash, he looked what he was—a prince of the church, head of all Russian Catholics from the Baltic to the Pacific, from the frozen sea to the frontiers of India.

Wears Martyr's Color.

On the day death sentence was passed on him his face shone with pleasure, his gray hair brushed carefully back, and he had been able somehow or other to procure a new skull cap, and a sash of the brightest red. The journalists who reported the trial for the Bolshevik papers alluded to this sash and this cap as symbols of the rank of archbishop. None of them seemed aware, however, that the color of blood had been purposely chosen because so many early Christian bishops died as martyrs, and that election to the episcopal chair was generally sentence of death.

When called upon to say his last words, the archbishop rose to his full height and delivered an address so touching and so simple that a priest found hush, with something of awe in it, settled down upon that hostile audience of Red soldiers, nihilists, sneers and demoralized students. So great was the effect on myself that I could not put pen to paper.

Archbishop's Defense.

The few words of that speech from the dock which resound in my mind are but a faint reflection of what he really said. The archbishop denied, as did all the other speakers after him, that he had belonged to any political organization, or had engaged in any counter-revolutionary intrigues. He had, on the contrary, confined himself to teaching his people the truths of their holy religion, these same truths which the church had taught for nearly 2,000 years.

The church had never taught the people to do wrong, he said, and he had never taught wrongdoing. He had never taught anything that did not tend to good morals and good citizenship. It had been his duty as the head of the Catholic Church in Russia to set a good example to the priests under him and to the dock instructed to his care.

"Today," concluded the archbishop, "I stand before a temporal judge; tomorrow maybe I shall stand before an eternal judge, and I hope the temporal judge may be just to me and the eternal judge merciful."

Next after the archbishop spoke Father Maletski, a kindly old man near 70, but agile and upright of figure as a man of 50. His commanding appearance, stern countenance and bushy eyebrows made him look severe, but as soon as he opened his mouth every body not belonging to the working class is a parasite and a tyrant. His father, he said, had been a very wealthy man who kept many servants, but he was a very kind and just master and a good Christian. Once when his son was little the boy had, in a moment of irritation, called the doorknocker a fool. The father made the lad kneel down to kiss the man's hand and beg his forgiveness. This was to show the boy that all men were equal before God, and the lesson was never forgotten.

Young Maletski afterward became a priest, and in an orphanage which he founded in Petrograd he placed many starving boys whom he picked up in the street. He had never engaged in political plots of any kind, but had been prosecuted under the Czar because he worked for his people and the poor.

Extraordinary Speech.

These crude translations of disjointed phrases of Father Maletski's speech convey only the faintest idea of how extraordinarily touching that speech was. The Bolshevik must indeed be blind if they cannot see that doubt, where was the crime in that? He was a Polish citizen, and naturally would turn for financial help to his own country. He might also have sought at the charge of conspiring with a foreign power, which was based by the prosecutor upon the fact that he had several times, several years ago, sent letters to Poland otherwise than through the post.

I have not sent letters through the Russian post recently, and not a single foreign correspondent in Moscow has, and two years ago the Bolshevik post office was even worse than it is now.

"Why did not the archbishop send his letters through the foreign office?" roared Krylenko. The archbishop's neglect to do so was actually made one of the most serious charges against him. Father Butchkevitch spoke of the Jews leveled at him on account of the large sums of money that passed through his hands; but one must remember, the diocese embraced all Russia. He had, as a matter of fact, spent all his own money in building several primary schools, a technical school and a professional school for Catholics. The prosecutor could easily ascertain these facts for himself.

His church in Petrograd was burdened with enormous debts; he was a Polish citizen. What wonder, therefore, that he should appeal for money to his friends in Poland? He was accused of conspiring in the strength of letters found lying unopened on his desk, but had been engaged in a conspiracy he would have concealed them. Had his activities been compromising some evidence of a conspiracy would have been produced.

The minutes of vestry meetings are not evidence of a conspiracy.

Independents Open Campaign To Raise Funds

Club Is Starting Off With Deficit and Needs
Some Help.

FINE TEAM IS LINED UP

By James M. DeLoach
The management of the Connellsville Independents, desiring to get off to an auspicious start this year, has already begun negotiations to secure cash subscriptions from fans and members of the city's sports. The club is starting off with a deficit, still owing it on the grandstand and there are other expenses incidental with organizing a ball season to be borne.

This is the fourth season of baseball in Connellsville and the fact that the club finds it once more necessary to appeal to the civic pride and spirit of the red-blooded men of the community is unpleasant but unavoidable. If the club secures a nice fund on which to start the present season it is possible some money will be cleared this year and such money will be placed in an account until next year when it will be used as a basis for organizing a club.

The team lined up by Manager J. J. Thompson is worthy of support. It is composed of men who bear reputations of being good hitters and fielders and by the time the season gets fairly under way the Cokers will be setting the pace for the best.

There is not a single attraction booked this year that will prove a first. The first two games are with West Newton and Smithton followed by the Roanoke of Pittsburgh and then the Homestead Grays for two games on May 3.

Since an independent ball club was formed here several men have been generous contributors and the fact that this team has reached this, which is likely to be its best year, is due largely to the individual support it has received. One more "push" and the club may get entirely on its own legs and then those who have made it possible for this city to hold its own in the ranks of the sporting world will have good cause to sit back and enjoy the thrill that comes with knowledge that their assistance has helped in the accomplishment.

LION TAMERS CLASH WITH ST. VINCENT QUINTET TONIGHT

At the High School gymnasium tonight the St. Vincent club of Leavenworth, Mo., champions of the City League, will play the Lion Tamers quintet, composed of former High School stars.

The game has aroused considerable interest among fans as it will be a new test of strength for the Green aggregation. A large number of Leavenworth fans will accompany the team. The game will be the last one of the season. There has been a lack of any sporting event here since the close of the City League almost two weeks ago and fans who follow every floor contest will be out for the game.

Good Bouts on Card For Tonight at Show To Be in Vanderbilt

The Vanderbilt Athletic Club will put on a show in its hall at that place tonight, featuring Kid Carpenter of New Kensington in an eight-round scrap with Bud News Taylor of Charlestown. There will also be a number of local fights leading up to the main event.

One feature of the show will be a four-round exhibition contest between Billy Carter, the colored scrapper of Connellsville and Jack Smith of New York, known as a boxing trainer.
